Why you need us:

IGS security officers ensure the safety and security of patients, visitors and personnel in the high stress environment of hospitals and health care facilities.

Hospitals and healthcare facilities are some of the most active public places in the USA, and since most health care facilities want to maintain the open-door policy, they are vulnerable to criminal activity if left unprotected. IGS has the experience to handle the unique challenges of protecting patients, employees and property while maintaining privacy and continuity of care in an open environment of healthcare systems. We work with all levels and sizes of health care facilities to create security programs that fit unique budgets, layouts and security objectives.

Why we are better:

International Guard Services is constantly assessing and reassessing our security personnel. Our first assessment is through an extensive hiring process. We follow up the state mandated requirements with advanced verbal, written and communications tests, ensuring a well-versed security professional. Every account has a supervisor who performs quality control audits and moral checks. The supervisors are in direct contact with the owner of our company, making needed changes a swift process. The end goal is to meet our client's security objectives with the right security personnel.

While every facility is different, they can all benefit from:

- Enhanced identification verification for access
- Visible checks of all vehicles and packages
- Increased perimeter security
- Heightened awareness of people or events that appear out of the ordinary

In addition to helping you achieve those goals, we also work to help your facility maintain the security compliance benchmarks necessary to meet the Environment of Care standards for The Joint Commission accreditation.

About our guards:

We understand that a security officer represents your company, which is why our security guards are carefully selected for your needs and wants in security professional. When selecting our security officers, we put them through an extensive screening and hiring process that consists of criminal background check, drug and alcohol screening, writing and communications test and interviews to ensure your officers have the personal and professional skill and abilities to surpass our client's expectations.

IGS works with clients to address specific healthcare security needs with cost-effective programs that include:

- Security officers who are known for their reliability, ethics, speed of response and adherence to rules and procedures but are also trained to recognize and understand the unique healthcare environment
- Fusion of security personnel and cutting-edge software and technologies
- Facility support services that include transportation and emergency response planning as well as security surveys, document management and employee education
- Effectively manage the threat of, and reduce incidents of, workplace violence from both visitors and patients
- Maximize the safety and security of your employees, physicians, patients, and visitors
- Protect your facility's investment in its internal and external property and supplies
- Provide peace of mind for your employees, physicians, patients, and visitors through a visible, professional security presence
